<td>rule 23</td>
<td>Reasons: My farm is in a peat wetlands physiographic zone. This farm is currently self contained sheep and beef finishing block. With the new rules coming in I can no longer winter graze here resulting to a loss of income and further expense by having to find alternative grazing for the winter no definition of intensive winter grazing given</td>
<td>with my farm being self contained I would like to be able to winter the stock I have on my own property to continue being self contained</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>rule 70</td>
<td>Reasons: Some areas of my farm it is impractical to fence due to the type of land in the peat wetland. There is many deep ditches that stock can not get into and these rise and flood often. My home block runs beside a river which floods 5-10 times per year, if I was to fence this I would be always fixing this fence at a huge cost</td>
<td>if stock are easily kept out of the water way due to topography this should not require any fencing. Flood zones have not been considered and are not appropriate to fence</td>
